Middle School teacher Sue Cannon, pictured with some of her students, returns to her classroom at Episcopal after her 2005-06 sabbatical. During her busy year, she taught students and teachers in China and Japan and made presentations on peace education in Canada, Denmark, and the United States! In addition to international study, travel, and teaching, she wrote and created Internet resources for students, teachers, and parents to help them pursue peace and global education projects. You can view some of these at www.teachforpeace.org. Sue is excited to be back at Episcopal where she will continue to encourage her students to think, care, and act—positively and effectively—locally and globally.
